U.S.-Norwegian Demining Initiative

June 15, 2016

Media Note

Office of the Spokesperson

Washington, DC

Today in Oslo,

the United States and Norway announced the U.S.-Norwegian Demining Initiative.

This effort

reflects a new chapter in our longstanding partnership to address the humanitarian impact of landmines and unexploded ordnance that is saving lives and helping post-conflict communities around the world rebuild.

Under this new initiative, the United States intends to provide an additional $10.8 million this year to clear portions of Iraq liberated from ISIL occupation and spend up to $8 million next year to do the same in liberated portions of Syria. Norway is announcing its intent to provide an additional $9.8 million for mine action this year, with a particular focus on Iraq and Syria, and plans to increase its financial support for global mine action by $15 million next year.

The initiative,

built upon the Global Demining Initiative for Colombia announced

earlier this year and led by the United States and Norway, also marks the first
